JOB'S FOR LIFE DIGNITY DISCUSSION

Hosted by the Triumph Collective at Amelie's Annex
Monday, August 26th, 2013 6:00 p.m. - 7:30 p.m.

Charlotte, NC August 20, 2013– Please join Theo Watkins Triumph Collective Founder and Jobs for Life Regional Director Daniel Alexander at Amelie's Annex (3128 The Plaza Road, Charlotte, NC) for an after-work discussion as we address the root causes of unemployment, and see how uniting churches, businesses, and community organizations is facilitating positive transformation within lives and the community.

The Triumph Collective is an organization attentive to the needs, concerns and struggles of mankind beginning at the local level, county level and eventually state-wide. Collectively we can cause the nation to triumph.

Our mission is to provide social, economic, and health awareness through world class training, education and mentorship to our communities, our state and to the uttermost parts of the nation.

"Let's build dignity and confidence as well as our communities."

– L. Theophilus Watkins

Limited space so please RSVP to Theo Watkins c/o Triumph Collective at 980.202.1334 or reach@triumphcollective.org for seating availability.

Triumph is sweeter when collectively attained!
